WEBfactory Information Log4Shell

HMSSAR-2021-12-14-002

Publication date: 14 December 2021
Last update: 14 December 2021

Overview

On December 9th 2021, a 0-day exploit in the Java logging library log4j (version 2) published as CVE-2021-44228, (critical CVSSv3 10) was divulged.

We are currently investigating the potential impact of these vulnerabilities for our WEBfactory branded products, currently no investigated product has used the vulnerable component.

Impact

An affected product may be vulnerable to remote Code Execution (RCE) by logging a certain string.

All WEBfactory products confirmed unaffected by Log4Shell vulnerabilities

All versions of the following products are not vulnerable:

- WEBfactory 2006
- WEBfactory 2010
- i4SCADA
- i4BACnet
- i4connected
- i4HMI
- i4designer

HMS Recommendations

Monitor HMS Security Advisory page which is updated as soon as new information is available about Security.

Additional information